The inter-religious International Meetings started in the mid-80s, as an initiative of the Community of Sant’Egidio, with the aim of promoting mutual understanding and dialogue among religions, in a horizon of peace.

The Community of Sant’Egidio has continued living the spirit of the Assisi World Day of Prayer, proposed by John Paul II in 1986, by accepting the Pope’s final invitation of that historical meeting: “Let’s keep spreading the message of Peace and living the spirit of Assisi.” Since that moment, through a network of friendship between representatives of different faiths and cultures from more than 70 countries, the Community has promoted a pilgrimage of peace that has had several stages in various European and Mediterranean cities year after year.

Pope John Paul II wrote in Novo Millenio ineunte:

“... we face the challenge of inter-religious dialogue, to which we will be committed in the new century ... Dialogue must go on.”

Today marks only the third time that an International Meeting of Prayer for Peace has been held in North America. St. Mary’s University is proud to host this important event whose goal is to bring women and men of different faiths and traditions together for inter-faith dialogue in the hopes of promoting world-wide peace.
